

The World's Finest Slate,
Handpicked for Your Home

Our Global Selection: A Legacy of Excellence
At California Slate Company, our unwavering commitment to quality begins with our global sourcing strategy. We meticulously select premium slate, ensuring it meets our rigorous standards for durability and aesthetic excellence.

Our extensive relationships with the world's most distinguished slate producers allow us to bring you an exclusive selection of materials. From the venerable quarries of Vermont, USA, celebrated for centuries as the heart of American slate production and recognized globally for its diverse range of greens, purples, and grays, to the time-honored regions of Spain, renowned for producing some of the world's most consistent and enduring architectural slate.

We also source from Brazil, home to resilient and uniquely colored slate varieties gaining international acclaim for their beauty and performance. Our direct sourcing from these three main provenances guarantees a diverse palette of colors and textures, ensuring every California Slate roof is a statement of enduring luxury and sophisticated craftsmanship. As a natural stone product, inherent variations in color, markings, thickness, and texture exist and are not guaranteed to be uniform, contributing to your roof's unique and authentic beauty.

Two Distinct Slate Solutions — One Enduring Standard of Excellence

At California Slate, we offer two exceptional options to meet the needs of both traditional and modern roofing applications — each delivering the timeless beauty, unmatched durability, and sustainability that only 100% natural slate can provide.

Our traditional slate is a premium natural stone known for its strength, weather resistance, and classic architectural appeal. With a dense composition and Class A fire rating, it offers unmatched longevity, often lasting over 100 years with minimal maintenance.

Sustainable by Nature

Made from 100% natural stone, both Standard Slate and SLATE2™ offer low-impact, recyclable roofing that's as environmentally responsible as it is timeless.

MEET SLATE2™ SLATE2™ Lightweight Slate System

SLATE2™ is our lightweight slate designed for projects where traditional slate is too heavy. It reduces roof load and often eliminates the need for structural reinforcement. Perfect for re-roofs, new residential builds, and modern designs, with the authentic look and durability of natural slate—without compromising performance.
